

COVID 19

Supporting you and your workforce when it matters

We say 'we are with you when it matters', and in these unprecedented times, we want to make sure we really are.

We have prioritised our services and attention to respond to your current and emerging needs in line with official government guidance.

We will keep this under review and will continue to tailor and evolve this support as the situation unfolds.

Here's what you can expect from us:

Employer Support

- Continued support for you to manage the impact of COVID 19 on your workforce through regular updates as the national guidance and position evolves and develops
- We are your regional voice to co-ordinate national guidance and your conduit to feed your thoughts, views and needs into national discussions
- HR Advice line and support continues as normal
- Weekly HR Webinar to discuss your immediate needs with colleagues
- Weekly summary of key issues, communications and resources from other sectors will be circulated via Basecamp

Confidential Coaching and Mentoring

Access to our Leadership Team to provide confidential advice, support and coaching and mentoring

Health & Wellbeing

Advice and guidance on managing your health and well being while working from home

Managing Teams & Performance Virtually

Bite sized learning and webinars to support managers to lead and support teams virtually

Business as Usual

Our meetings and activities will continue as planned via digital and remote working methods to ensure that we continue to be 'with you when it matters'

Access to Flexible Workforce Resources

We can be your conduit to access our team of professional associates who can provide a breadth of talent and expertise to meet your emerging needs

Please keep in touch with us to let us know how we can continue to support you.

www.nwemployers.org.uk

0161 834 9362

support@nwemployers.org.uk

