

Executive Coaching

5 Step Programme

Coaching acknowledges that challenges of Chief Executives and senior leaders are not going to be resolved by taught programmes alone. For many senior leaders coaching provides the time and space to work on their own dilemmas and discuss the issues which they may feel unable to resolve within the organisation.

Executive coaching is skilled and targeted conversations that challenge and support senior leaders to help themselves excel and look at challenges to help them become better leaders,

Our handpicked team of Executive coaches have real leadership pedigree in a variety of areas and industries.

We will work with you to choose a coach with the right style, experience and background to match you on an individual basis. Our Executive Coaching provides a uniquely challenging, but supportive working partnership that benefits individuals and organisations by improving performance through developing skills, confidence, and focus.

Take a look through our brochure and see which of our coaches you might be interested in working with, have a no obligation call with your chosen coach to see if the chemistry is right for both parties to ensure you receive the right support for you.

North West Employers has created a 5 step executive coaching offer that is flexible to fit around your busy work schedule but will push you to focus on your key challenges and personal growth opportunities. Our coaching offer has been developed to be easily accessible and cost effective.
